Beaver Studies Cost Cuts

10-Point Plan Advanced After Levy Defeat

Program Would Curtail Sports, Reduce Bus Runs

Financially plagued Beaver Local School District Board of Education Monday night took under advisement a 10-point suggested plan for whittling school operating expenses as the district embarks on an unprecedented austerity program.

The resignations of a teacher, a cook and a bus driver were accepted and a new teacher was employed.

The proposal prepared by the school administration and a few key citizens is the aftermath of a crushing defeat of a do-or-die 7-mill school levy at last week's polling.

The levy, which would have afforded some $100,000 a year to help boost teachers' salaries and pay operating expenses, was beaten by a more than 2 to 1 margin.

Large Group Present
A fairly large group of teachers and district citizens were present at Monday's meeting to voice their opinions on the levy's failure and moves to be taken in light of the defeat.

A spokesman for the group of citizens said the suggestions made to pare costs were not made "to scare or threaten anyone, but were an attempt to find a solution to a problem."

The suggestions made to the board as possible ways of paring expenses included:

1. Curtailment of sports program. (A spokesman interpreted this recommendation to mean the elimination of all sports, including football, basketball, baseball, track and wrestling.)
2. Elimination of all extra-curricular bus trips except for athletic contests (all bus trips, if sports are eliminated).
3. Curtailment of use of all buildings after 6 p.m.
4. Elimination of part of maintenance crew.
5. Elimination of night janitor.
6. Reduction of transportation.

Farm Bureau Honors Two At Meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Coshocton minister and a Columbus woman today received the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's top awards for distinguished service to agriculture.

Wendell Weller of Urbana, president of the federation which is holding its 45th annual meeting here, presented the awards to Mrs. Ada Smith and the Rev. Russell H. Hoy.

Mrs. Smith was cited for more than 40 years of activities in the farm organization during which she became the first chairwoman of the Franklin County Franklin County Farm Bureau's Women's Committee and helped establish Safety Day at the Ohio State Fair.

The Rev. Mr. Hoy, for the past 6 years pastor of the Lewisville Methodist Church in Coshocton, was honored for his many Farm Bureau activities. He is widely known for his Ohio Farm Magazine column "The Country Parson Ponders."

Four Ohio counties were presented Advisory Council Awards. One from each of the state group's four regional territories, the winners were Van Wert, Huron, Miami and Holmes counties.

The Highland County Fairfield Township Advisory Council was named winner of the Farm Bureau's safe driving contest. Forty-nine Ohio counties were cited by the American Farm Bureau Federation for topping their goals in this year's January membership campaign. Columbiana County was included.

Battle Lines Drawn

Rocky, Barry Command Posts Few Doors Apart

WASHINGTON (AP) — From command posts a few doors apart, men who want Sen. Barry Goldwater to run for president and lieutenants of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller have drawn their battle lines.

Their tactics differ, but their goals are the same: Top spot on the Republican presidential ticket and a run for the White House—three blocks down the street, but millions of votes away.

A self-style missionary for the Rockefeller presidential cause is out to spread the New York governor's gospel in Washington—and "not just for the exercise."

Half a block up Connecticut Avenue, a high-powered draft Goldwater movement is looking for dollars and delegates to pledge to the Arizona senator.

Alexander M. Lankler, a tall, 34-year-old Washington lawyer, presides over Rockefeller's political office. Actually, it's Lankler's law office, with a stack of Rockefeller posters and pamphlets in the corner.

"This is a missionary station," says Lankler. "The mother church is in New York."

"We're in the political liaison business, not in the hoopla and headquarters business," he adds. Lankler, a transplanted New Yorker, was deputy manager of Rockefeller's gubernatorial campaign in 1962.

Once again, he has put aside his law practice for politics. "The governor is in this thing to stay, and so am I," he says. "And not just for the exercise. We think we can win."

Down the street, you can buy a Goldwater button for a penny or a bigger-than-life picture of the senator for $3. "It's one of our biggest bargains," says a Goldwater girl of the seven-by-nine foot picture.

In the half-dozen rooms of national draft Goldwater headquarters, a staff of 15 is quarterbacking the drive to try to make the Arizona senator next year's Republican presidential nominee.

Rockefeller has declared himself in the race, Goldwater has not.

"We're in this draft movement to demonstrate that Goldwater has a fighting chance on delegates and funds," says finance chairman Frank J. Kovac.

Kovac, former executive director of the Republican National Finance Committee, adds the draft Goldwater people "envision the establishment of a moving vehicle for the senator so that when he announces, he doesn't start from a standing position."

The finance chairman displays a stack of Goldwater letters—most of them with checks attached. "Saturday's mail," he said.

He won't say how much money the draft movement has raised, but he displays dozens of checks—for up to $1,000—and stacks of pledges, promising more money when the senator declares himself in the presidential race.

Lankler says he expects to spend a lot of time on Capital Hill and at the Republican National Committee.

"A lot of people say elections and nominations aren't won or lost in Washington," he adds. "Well, they aren't won in Indianapolis, either."

"Dollar for dollar and ounce for ounce, there are more political people in Washington than anywhere else."

Friends of the couple were being questioned. Deputies said the couple had gone before to the spot where their bodies were found. The boy's body was on

Coroner Rules Teen Couple Was Murdered

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — "We're getting a lot of talk, but not much information," Lucas County sheriff's deputies said about the investigation of a teenage couple who were slain in a lover's lane.

Four detectives were assigned to investigate the deaths, ruled murders Monday by Coroner Harry Mignerey.

The charred bodies of Edward Lee Mitchell, 18, of near Liberty Center and Mary Caldwell, 17, of Toledo were found Sunday in a burned-out car in a desolate area west of Toledo. They had to be identified by dental records.

Mitchell was shot at least three times, Dr. Mignerey said. The girl suffered multiple skull fractures. Three young men found the bodies.

Fragments of glass found in a sweater the boy had worn were being analyzed. Investigators wanted to know whether they matched broken glass in the car's window, which they believe was smashed by the attacker. The untorn sweater was found on the ground behind the car. So were the car keys.

2 Are Indicted In Traffic Deaths

SEBRING — Mrs. Eleanor Sosnick, 33, of North Benton and Ivan Higgins, 27, of RD 5, Alliance, were indicted this morning by Mahoning County Grand Jury on counts of second degree manslaughter.

Their arraignments will be next week.

Mrs. Sosnick was involved in the July 11 traffic accident near Sebring which took the life of Alex McCreadie of Alliance.

Higgins was cited by Sebring police following an Aug. 24 crash in which Edward Dunphy of RD 1, North Benton, was killed.

Nixon Can't See Self As Candidate

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says he can conceive of "no circumstances whatever" under which he would be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

The former vice president says that if his name comes up as a possible candidate in the New Hampshire or Oregon primaries he will "do everything I can legally to get my name out."

Nixon told a news conference Monday night those primary races should be between New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, an announced candidate for the nomination, and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who is expected to oppose Rockefeller.

Nixon said he appreciates the remarks made about him by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on a television program Sunday, but he believes he can "best serve my party and my country as a constructive critic." He said he plans about one speech a month and will continue to write articles on current events but "there is no devious conspiratorial plan thereby to become a candidate."

Eisenhower said that if a deadlock developed at the Republican convention, Nixon would be "one of the likely persons" to be considered for the nomination "because he is... a very knowledgeable and a very courageous type of person."

"Deadlocks are a thing of the past," said Nixon, who lost the 1960 election to President Kennedy.

Soviets Hold Yale Professor As Spy

U.S. Embassy Presses for Charge Details

Prisoner Formerly Was Employed by State Department

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians announced today the arrest of Prof. Fred C. Barghoorn of Yale University on a charge of spying—the first such case involving an American since the recent cold war thaw.

The U.S. Embassy got the news from the Foreign Office, which refused to give any information on where he is being held. The embassy was pressing for details of the charge against him.

The author of several books on the Soviet Union, the 52-year-old professor formerly was on the staff of the U.S. Embassy in Moscow. He arrived in the Soviet Union about Oct. 1 on a month's tourist visa. The Foreign Ministry said he was arrested several days ago.

Barghoorn went to Alma Ata, capital of the Central Asian republic of Kazakhstan at the time of an exhibition of American graphic arts there early in October.

An embassy official said he last saw Barghoorn Oct. 12 at Tbilisi (Tiflis), capital of the Georgian republic. That is the last time he was reported seen by any Westerner.

If the charge follows the usual pattern in cases of foreign tourists accused of espionage, a camera might have gotten Barghoorn in trouble. The usual charge is photographing military installations, and in the Soviet Union that can mean almost anything, such as a bridge.

Barghoorn is a resident of

Gaming Raid At Niles Gets Help of FBI

NILES — Arraignment is scheduled in Municipal Court today for a Niles man arrested with $2,179 in his possession during one of two Trumbull County gambling raids yesterday.

James Chieffo, arrested at the Cue & Cushion Lounge about 11:15 a.m. by FBI agents, sheriff's deputies, Niles police and County Prosecutor Lynn Griffith Jr., is held without bond.

Authorities said Chieffo, an employee of the suspected Niles gambling spot, had the money

State Offers To Make Fenn Tech Institute

CLEVELAND (AP)—State officials reportedly have offered to grant Fenn College here $12 million initially to affiliate with the state and create a technical institute.

The proposal reportedly was made at a meeting Monday night between Fenn trustees and state officials including Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Under the arrangement, Fenn might receive an addition $13 million later. The plan, which would involve moving the campus, would create what one state official called "the finest technical institute in the country."

Present at the meeting were Roger Cloud, speaker of the Ohio House, Ohio Finance Director Richard L. Krabach, Chairman Harold W. Oyster of the State Board of Regents, Warren H. Chase, board secretary, and board member James O. Ford.

Mother Bitter Over Operation

Girl's Leg Removed In Fight on Cancer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blonde Mrs. Lily Simko was confused, brokenhearted, but most of all she was bitter — at everyone. Three floors up in an operating room, surgeons were amputating the right leg of Christine, her 14-year-old daughter.

Seated in a corridor of Metropolitan General Hospital, Mrs. Simko remained unconcerned to the facts. "What kind of life can my daughter have now?" she asked as sobs broke her voice.

Christine had a life-or-death question hanging over her. She had a malignant tumor in her right hip. Doctors agreed that only removal of the leg — including the hip—could save the girl's life. Otherwise, life expectancy was reduced to 6-18 months.

Now, Christine has a reasonable chance to be cured over a five-year period. Every week and month brings added hope, doctors say.

Four surgeons completed the operation in five hours Monday. All went smoothly. Christine will be out of bed in a few days. She will walk, first with crutches and then under physical therapy treatment with an artificial limb. Since her hip is gone, the limb will be attached from a strap around the waist.

Mrs. Simko never consented to the operation. Doctors said they believe she feared Christine would one day blame her for the loss of the leg.

The girl was a ward of juvenile court. She had run away from home several times and was a behavior problem. The mother, who is on state aid-dependent relief, does not work. When doctors couldn't get permission from Mrs. Simko, they asked juvenile court last week to allow the operation. Judge Walter G. Whitlatch gave permission for the operation.

Because "everyone kept bugging me about the operation," the frightened Christine ran away from the hospital in her bedroom gown last Tuesday night. She was found across town in her east Cleveland home the next morning.

Christine returned to the hospital, saying she was ready to face her fate. But Mrs. Simko still blamed the court, the doctors, social workers and everyone connected with her daughter's case.

"Oh, why did everyone keep the facts from her and from me?" Mrs. Simko asked. "They said she always ran away and got into trouble. The doctors operated on her leg so she won't be able to run anymore. They'll always know where to find her—she'll always be in a chair. Oh, she'll just fret and fret."

During the past week, mail from well-wishers has poured into the hospital from almost every state and some foreign countries. "I know Christine will feel better when she reads the letters," Mrs. Simko said.

Mrs. Simko is a divorcee. Christine's father disappeared six years ago.

The blonde woman from Leicester, England, married an GI. She came to America and had two children, a son who now is 15 and Christine.

Car Fumes Fatal To Two Men In Niles

NILES, Ohio (AP) — Two Trumbull County men were found dead in a car here Monday, victims of carbon monoxide poisoning. Coroner Joseph Sudimack Jr. identified the men as Zed Ellsworth Scott, 33, of Cortland and Lawrence Horner, 37, of Vienna. A faulty muffler on Scott's car was blamed for the deaths.

4 Area Youths Hurt In Crash

2 Women Injured In 1-Car Mishap

Four youths from Leetonia and Washingtonville, returning from work in Canfield, were injured when their car hit a tree after sideswiping a Youngstown car Monday at 5:10 p.m. on the Washingtonville Rd., a half mile south of Route 165.

Hurt were: Richard P. Troy, 21, of RD 1, Chestnut St., Leetonia, the driver, abrasions of the right knee. Joel Piersol, 18, Union St., Washingtonville, contusions of the left leg.

Clinton McClun, 18, Maple St., Washingtonville, lacerations of the head. Clyde Boyer, 18, Boston St., Washingtonville, possible fractured nose and contusions of the hip.

The operator of the other car, Thomas C. Miller, 59, of Youngstown, was uninjured.

The youths were treated at Salem City Hospital and released. The Canfield post of the State Highway Patrol said Troy was driving south on the Washingtonville Rd. as the youths returned home from their jobs at the Myers Equipment Corp. in

165 Attend Saxon Veterans Dinner

Rev. George Nieman of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Youngstown was the guest speaker when 165 persons attended the annual veterans banquet at the Saxon Lodge Monday night.

Fred J. Theiss Jr., chairman of the banquet, gave the welcome while Rudolph Bodendorf acted as toastmaster.

William Edling, president of the local branch, and Mayor Dean B. Cramer gave short addresses and John Herman Jr. recognized past members and veterans and conducted the memorial service.

Entertainment was provided by the Salem Saxon Chorus, under the direction of F. Edwin Miller. Group singing was also part of the program.

B. J. Tontsch, the only surviving World War I veteran in the local Saxon lodge, was given special recognition.

I wish to thank all the Washingtonville voters. Benjamin W. Snow-ad

Douglas-Home Begins Struggle To Keep Power

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home's new Conservative government embarked today on a crucial struggle for victory in next year's general election with a call for modernization of British industry to get the full productive benefits of the age of automation.

The government, in Queen Elizabeth's speech from the throne opening the new session of Parliament, also announced plans for sweeping improvements in social services.

The speech, written by Sir Alec's Cabinet, promised to strive for world peace and "to support the freedom of West Berlin."

The queen's speech was read to a joint session of the House of Lords and the House of Commons by the lord chancellor, Lord Dilhorne. The queen has canceled public appearances because she is expecting her fourth child.

As Parliament reopened, political expectancy was higher than at any time since the 1959 general election. A classic contest seemed in the making between Douglas-Home, a 60-year-old Scottish aristocrat who shed an earldom to succeed Harold Macmillan, and the Labor party's rapier-tongued, 47-year-old leader, Harold Wilson.

Mental Health Workshop Scheduled In E. Liverpool

A special mental health workshop, designed to introduce the workings of the new Columbiana County Mental Health Clinic, will be presented Friday from 1:45 to 4:30 p.m. at Westgate School in East Liverpool.

The workshop will be for school executives, principals, teachers, doctors, preachers and other persons interested in mental health.

The workshop will consist of three parts:

(1) The keynote address by Dr. O. Spurgeon English of Temple University Hospital on the general topic of mental diseases and their treatment. Dr. English is a nationally known psychiatrist, author, and lecturer.

(2) A panel consisting of a psychiatrist, a psychologist, and a psychiatric social worker will present the various phases of aid available at the new county clinic itself. The psychiatrist will be the clinic director, Dr. Jakabs Knezinskis.

(3) Four individual workshops will be held, any of which visitors may attend, depending upon their specific interest. The workshops will be conducted by the four professional workers and Dr. English.

The Columbiana County Mental Health Association Inc., which was instrumental in securing the clinic, planned the workshop.

County schools are expected to suspend classes Friday afternoon so teachers may attend.

60 In 4-H Enroll For Steer Raising

The 4-H Steer Committee met last night at the Columbiana County Extension office at Lisbon to go over the enrollment applications of 60 boys and girls entering 72 head of cattle in the steer competition.

The committee is the governing body which checks enrollments and compliance with rules and weight specifications.

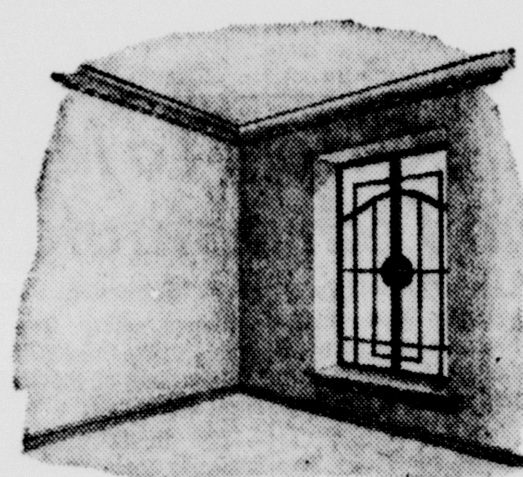

Plans were made for the annual meeting the end of December, at which time W. W. Wharton of the Department of Animal Science at Ohio State University will be the guest speaker. A definite date and place has not yet been set.

CONVEYED TO PRISON

LISBON — Sheriff's deputies today transferred two prisoners to the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus to serve terms imposed upon them in common pleas court.

Wayne Hillyer, 34, Hanoverton, will begin serving a 1-20 year sentence for second degree manslaughter in the death of Earl McIntosh 44, of New Garden, whom Hillyer's sedan killed when it ran through the wall of the Midway Tavern in Hanoverton Jan. 13, 192.

John R. Reed, 32, of Wells-ville will serve 1-5 years, for burglary Jan. 27 of the Super Foods Store in Wellsville. He pleaded guilty to the offense Oct. 30.

Fertilize Fruit Trees

Fall is a good time to fertilize your apple trees. Peach, plum and cherry trees also may be fertilized in the fall, but spring is preferred, says Eldon Banta, Ohio State University Extension horticulturist.

Nitrogen needs to be applied to fruit crops more frequently than other fertilizer elements. In many instances it is the only element that needs to be applied. For this reason, fertilizer recommendations are based on the rate of nitrogen application.

In general, the fruits mentioned may be fertilized at the rate of 1/4 to 1-3 pound of a 20 per cent nitrogen fertilizer for each year of tree age. Three common nitrogen fertilizers are sulfate of ammonia, which carries 20 per cent nitrogen, ammonium nitrate (33 1-3 per cent nitrogen) and nitrate of soda (16 per cent nitrogen). If ammonium nitrate is used, the rate would be somewhat less than for sulfate of ammonia. The rate for nitrate of soda would be a little higher. In no case, says Banta, should a tree receive more than eight pounds of any nitrogen fertilizer, regardless of age. Usually a less amount will suffice.

Some soils may not supply enough other elements, especially potassium, for best tree performance. In these cases applying a mixed fertilizer, such as 12-12-12, 8-16-16, or 14-7-7, may be preferred. The rate would be from 1-3 to 1/2 pound of the fertilizer per year of tree age, with no tree receiving over 12 pounds per application.

Pear trees, because of their susceptibility to the fire blight disease, must receive less nitrogen than other fruit trees. Ordinarily, a pear tree should receive about half the amount of nitrogen given other fruits, sometimes even less. Nitrate of soda is a better material to use on pears than are the ammonia forms of nitrogen. It is best to apply it in early spring.

For most efficient use, the fertilizer is spread evenly beneath the spread of the tree branches and slightly beyond, according to Banta.

Holstein High In Test

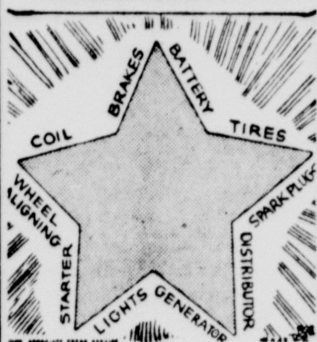

A registered Holstein cow from this area prominently mentioned in an official production testing report received today from Holstein - Friesian Association of America headquarters at Brattleboro, Vermont, is Ormsby Shanghigh Calamity, a five-year-old owned by Gene R. Snyder of Kensington, which produced 15,500 pounds milk and 585 pounds butterfat in 305 days.

Charlie Ray of 140 Hawley Ave., territory manager for New Idea farm equipment, has returned from a three-day series of meetings and demonstrations held in southwestern Indiana. The sessions were attended by New Idea sales executives and territory managers from branches throughout the nation.

HAY PRODUCTION in Ohio this year is estimated at 3.2 million tons, two per cent above last year's short crop but 12 per cent below the 1957-61 average.

When the Trouble Starts

Why do members of Congress repeatedly risk things they know would embarrass them if called to attention?

Latest incident concerns an American delegation to a North Atlantic Treaty Organization conference in Paris. Ohio Rep. Wayne L. Hays (18th district) is now explaining how the head waiter of the House of Representatives dining room happened to go along.

The waiter, Ernest Petinaud, was on vacation, it appears. The delegation took him along to run errands. Because he spoke French, he seemed to fit in with a trip to Paris. All of which makes sense to Rep. Hays and probably makes sense to most members of Congress.

So what makes it embarrassing?

Simply the fact it shows how people who spend public money forget the humility taxpayers expect in public servants. They assume they are entitled to prerogatives that their constituents never would give them, so they take them.

They vote themselves perquisites, favors and largesse that would strain the tolerance of investors in private enterprise. They vote themselves offices, secretarial help and stationery allowances that would do credit to tycoons.

They provide restaurants and barber-shops to their taste, go junketeering with a song in their hearts, live high on counterparty funds, travel like princes of Cathay, — and then are flabbergasted when their fellow commoners wonder what they have been eating to make them forget to whom they owe their living.

That's when the trouble starts.

Unlimited Shipping Available

There is room for argument above getting surplus U.S. wheat off the backs of taxpayers by selling it to the Soviet Union.

But there is no room for argument about making the Russians share this country's merchant marine subsidy to move the grain from U.S. ports to U.S.S.R. ports. Russia is under no obligation to help subsidize U.S. shipping.

The trouble started with President Kennedy's proviso in giving consent to the grain deal that U.S. ships must be used when "available." It was a mischievous condition to attach to the deal, almost mischievous enough to make a deal impossible.

The President knew unlimited shipping would be "available" if the proviso were enforced. U.S. ships could be taken out of the mothball fleet. Ships would be called in from all parts of the world for a crack at the business.

U.S. merchant marine vessels cannot compete with foreign flag shipping because of higher wage rates, higher construction costs and various legal requirements jacking up maintenance costs. To ask any foreign country to chip in for the support of the U.S. shipping industry is unrealistic. U.S. shippers themselves mostly patronize foreign flag lines, many of them owned by U.S. capital.

Did President Kennedy know what he was saying when he added that mischievous condition to the grain deal with Russia—"when available?" Or did he say something that just seemed like a good idea at the time?

Our School System

Aside from teacher-parent conferences three days this week Salem public schools are not noding a general observance of National Education Week.

In Salem, the opening PTA meetings of the school term usually set the tone of the good relations which are apparent throughout the year between parents and the faculty and the school system generally, and as Supt. Paul E. Smith has pointed out frequently, our school programs are above average because of good public interest. There is no real need for a week's observance to focus attention on things which are paramount to most of us all of the time anyway. Salem's interest in good schools and the children's proper education should never falter, however.

Sgt. Mallory Retires

Stern but good-natured Ed Mallory has earned his retirement from the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Today was his last day as head of the county barracks at Lisbon, concluding 24 years of service as a patrolman, corporal and sergeant on the state patrol. In his tour of duty, he has been at several posts, including Salem and the district barracks at Massillon but his reassignment to Salem made him the happiest. He is typical of the many outstanding, well-trained state patrolmen whose service to the motoring public is often appreciated but seldom expressed.

We hope Ed finds the retirement job that will keep him here as a local citizen.

The Bow Saw

Confronted with the presence on our minuscule acreage in Rosy Fingered Dawn of enough potential firewood to stoke the boilers of Hades, I bought a bow saw.

What I had in mind when I went shopping, though, was a buck saw.

My old man was a virtuoso with a buck saw. My admiration for his skill prompted me to think that someday I might develop similar skill if I possessed a proper implement for sawing.

As far as I know they don't make buck saws any more — and as far as I'm concerned it's just as well. They don't make buck saw operators any more either.

MY OLD MAN used to go to the basement of a winter evening and put in an hour or so buck-sawing for the fun of it. The rest of us would sit upstairs and listen to that old red buck saw go skreeek-skraaak in a steady cadence until bedtime.

I didn't know then that something more than determination to keep plenty of kindling on hand for the furnace must have prompted this business with the buck saw. I don't know it now, but I can guess.

I think my old man was bored and that pushing and pulling a buck saw back and forth through innumerable pieces of wood was his way of coming to terms with his existence. While he was skreeek-skaraaak-ing in the basement, my mother was knitting, tatting and crocheting. Same thing. The kindling piled up and up and up and so did the fancy work. The space beneath the basement stairs was full to the brim with sawed wood. The supply lasted for years after my old man had put in his last session with the buck saw. Crocheted table clothes and embroidered pretties are common as dust cloths.

THE BUCK SAW was one of my inheritances, but something happened to it in the interim. It must have grown rusty and dull with disuse. When I tried to use it, the skreeek-skraaak lacked rhythm.

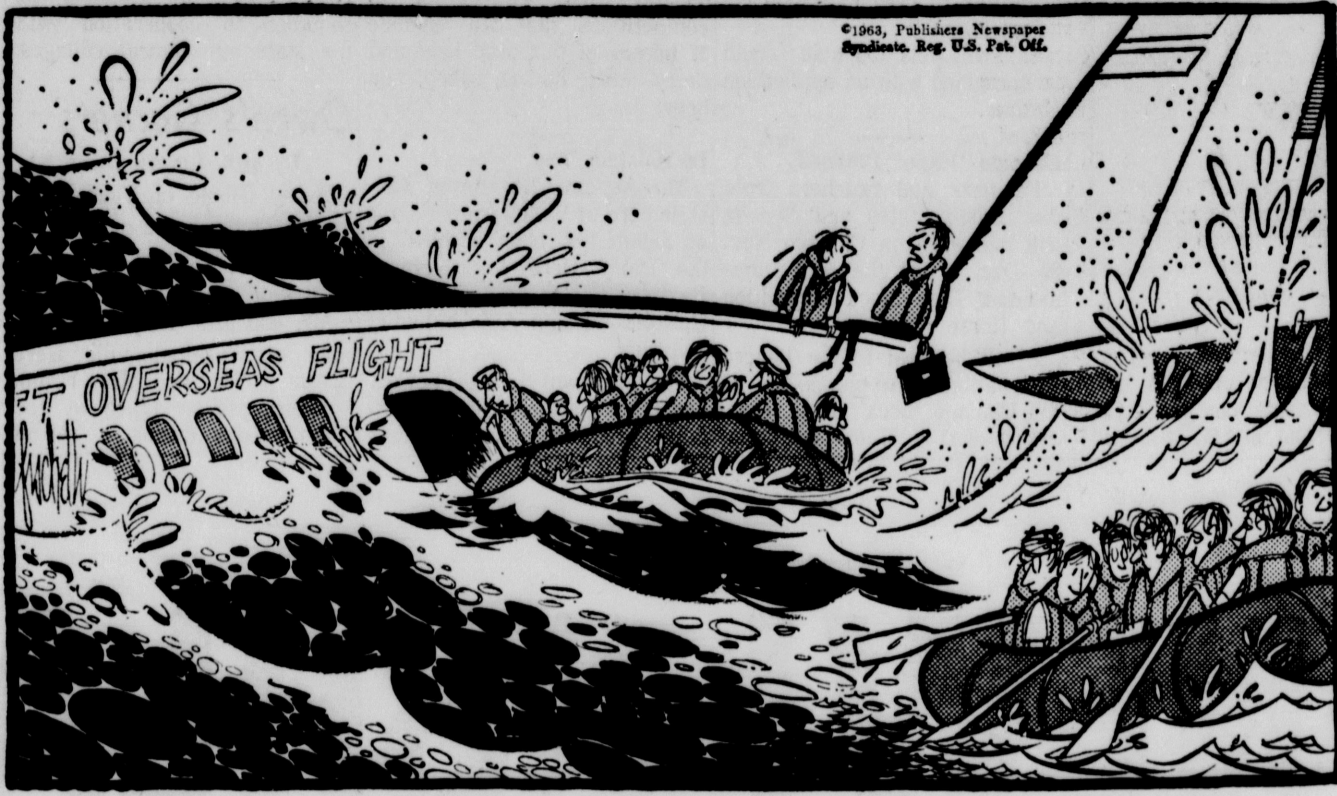

The operator of the saw was impatient and tired quickly. The kindling wasn't up to standard when the job was done. One day in a cleaning out of things no one ever had any use for the buck saw was reclassified as trash and thrown out.

For years afterward, firewood was bought ready-made. Kindling was a sometime thing — a source of endless beefing by the lady who knits, tats and corchets.

It doesn't take much kindling for an automatic oil furnace and a couple of fireplaces that rarely are used. It doesn't take as much as it took for the furnace at home when my old man kept the kindling bin overflowing.

But it still takes a lot of skreeeking and skraaaking to come to terms with existence.

And that's why I bought a bow saw, which is a lot easier to skreeek and skraaak with than a buck saw ever was.

Hoffa's White Flag

By VICTOR RIESEL

A white flag appears to be fluttering in the political winds over Jim Hoffa's ramparts. It has been noticed by some very sharp eyes in the White House. The President was told of it — and the interpretation in the sanctum is that "Jimmy" wants to call off the feud with at least part of the Kennedy family.

Victor Riesel

The President and his brother, Sen. Ted, appear willing.

There have been many private conversations between "both sides." The Kennedy forces want to blunt the impact of Hoffa's political activity. Hoffa has been under enormous pressure from powerful figures inside the teamsters to end his feud and stop challenging the concentrated forces of the U.S. government.

All this has been closed-hotel-room and back-of-the-restaurant type of whispered intrigue. But now there is the first concrete evidence that Hoffa is willing to "make it up."

THIS EVIDENCE comes out of an episode which began many weeks ago. Hoffa has been moving caravans of "teamsters' wives" regularly into the capital in a cavalcade of lobbyists ever since February. This is done in the name of his Democratic Republican Independent Voter Education (DRIVE), the existence of which this column was the first to report some years back.

One of these motorcades of wives was organized in Boston by Nick Morrissey, an old friend of the Kennedys. He is president of the five-state New England Teamster Joint Council No. 10.

It occurred to him that it would be a master stroke to have his distaff caravan roll right into the White House and visit with President Kennedy. He contacted his friend Ted Kennedy. It was arranged.

On Oct. 16 President Kennedy met for a half hour with some 14 teamster wives in the White House rose garden, by previous appointment, in the climax of Joint Council No. 10 (New England) Motorcade.

"The chief executive had a friendly word and a greeting for each lady individually. He shook hands with each lady, as well as the business agents from the five-state area represented by the delegation.

"As the ladies filed into the garden while on a special tour of the White House, JFK stepped out of his office and, is edited under the careful supervision of the general president, James Hoffa.

The following, which certainly should be in the public record, appeared in a featured position on a featured page.

First, atop page 4 there is a photo of President Kennedy shaking the hand of one teamster wife while a long line waits impatiently. The caption reads:

"President John F. Kennedy, in the White House rose garden, receiving teamster wives who came to Washington from Massachusetts on a teamster motorcade sponsored by DRIVE, the political and legislative arm of the teamsters.

UNDER THE CAPTION ran this story:

"President John F. Kennedy met for a half hour with some 14 teamster wives in the White House rose garden, by previous appointment, in the climax of Joint Council No. 10 (New England) Motorcade.

"The chief executive had a friendly word and a greeting for each lady individually. He shook hands with each lady, as well as the business agents from the five-state area represented by the delegation.

"As the ladies filed into the garden while on a special tour of the White House, JFK stepped out of his office and, smiling, walked down the path to greet them.

"Each lady, as she shook hands with the President, told him where she was from. JFK smiled and replied, 'Glad to see you.' . . . 'Very happy to see you.' . . . 'Glad you're here.' . . .

"There was no formal speech by the President, but as he moved down the line shaking hands he was heard to say: 'Such beautiful delegates. . . .'

"He was conducted down the receiving line by Nick Morrissey, president of Teamster Joint Council No. 10. . . ."

WHEN INSIDERS saw this in the teamsters' magazine, which goes out to 1,470,086 members, they flipped as though they had just heard Robert Kennedy appoint Mississippi's Gov. Ross Barnett assistant attorney general of the United States.

In previous editions, Hoffa had been writing that President Kennedy was hard to take. The teamsters' chief had been exhorting him. Suddenly all is roses and light. But only for JFK.

For brother Robert, Brother Hoffa had another scathing phrase: "Cosa Nonsense."

But regardless of what he thought of Robert, Hoffa's white flag appeared to be showing.

The Removal of Otepka

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., has achieved a reputation for independent thinking. When he says that the Department of State, in dismissing its director of security, used methods that are highly questionable, the country naturally becomes interested, especially since Mr. Dodd himself at one time served in the Federal Bureau of Investigation under J. Edgar Hoover.

David Lawrence

The Connecticut senator told the Senate on Nov. 5, that a "serious challenge to responsible government" occurred when Otto Otepka was dismissed by the State Department simply because he had "testified honestly" before the Senate subcommittee on internal security on matters relating to security in the Department of State.

He quoted the existing statutes which say that "the right of persons employed in the Civil Service of the United States, either individually or collectively, to petition Congress, or any member thereof, or to furnish information to either house of Congress or to any committee or member thereof, shall not be denied or interfered with."

Sen. Dodd declared that, by its action in the Otepka case, the State Department "has, in effect, nullified this statute" and has issued a warning "to all employees that cooperation with the established committees of the Senate, if this cooperation involves testimony considered unpalatable at higher echelon, is a crime punishable by dismissal."

Then came a sensational development. The Senate internal security subcommittee released on Nov. 9 letters filed by three State Department officials asking that the record of their testimony be amended and conceding that an eavesdropping device had been placed on the telephone wire in Mr. Otepka's office. Sen. R. L. Hruska, R-Neb., thereupon demanded that the State Department consider dismissing the three men who, he said, had misled the Senate.

IMMEDIATELY after Mr. Hruska's statement, two of the same three men — who have been the principal accusers of Mr. Otepka — were placed on "administrative leave" for the time being by the State Department.

Sen. Dodd, in his initial speech, pointed out that the significance of the Otepka case "cannot be overstated" and added:

"Mr. Otepka was the last old-line security officer holding a top position in the office of security. He has been an employee of the United States government for 27 years. He has served as deputy director of the Office of Security and officer in charge of evaluations. His efficiency ratings always have been 'excellent.' In 1953 he received the Meritorious Service Award from the secretary of state, John Foster Dulles. But suddenly, for some strange reason, certain people in the department decided that Mr. Otepka had to go.

"And so, they began first, to restrict his functions. Then they installed a tap on his telephone. Although a State Department official has denied under oath that this was done, the subcommittee on internal security has proof that the tap was installed.

"Then they began to monitor Mr. Otepka's burn basket. Then they locked him out of his office and denied him access to his files, although no charge had been brought against him.

"No one suspected of espionage or disloyalty has to my knowledge been subjected to such surveillance and humiliation. But Mr. Otepka was not suspected of disloyalty or espionage. He was suspected very simply of cooperating with the Senate subcommittee on internal security and of providing it with information that some of his superiors found embarrassing or objectionable."

IN MANY RESPECTS this is more important than the alleged scandals that are being investigated on Capitol Hill in domestic affairs, for the whole question of giving security clearance to individuals employed in the Department of State now has been raised in a sensational manner. Sen. Dodd concluded:

"If the dismissal of Mr. Otepka is permitted to stand, it will become impossible or exceedingly difficult to elicit any information from employees of the executive branch that bears on disloyalty, malfeasance, conflict of interest or other wrongdoing by their superiors."

The Department of State has not made public its detailed reasons for the dismissal of Mr. Otepka, nor has it given a satisfactory explanation to the Senate internal security subcommittee. But wherever the question of security arises, Congress naturally is on the alert. There have been too many instances in which employees in the executive branch of the government have been given security clearance and later turned out to be indiscreet in passing out to friends and acquaintances information which eventually reached the Communist side.

IN A VAST organization of employees such as the federal government maintains today, it's natural that there should be instances of questionable security. But the system which the Department of State has for years maintained is one that has created in Congress confidence. The fact that the current fight for better security is being led by a northern Democrat, who himself is an expert in security matters, is accepted by other senators as an indication that the problem is being handled by the Senate in a wholly nonpartisan way.

The administration has the responsibility of answering to the Senate and to the public just why the methods complained of by Sen. Dodd were used to remove a competent official from the delicate and difficult post of handling security matters in the Department of State.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 14 with a serious problem. My real father died when I was 4 and mother was remarried to a man I didn't like. My stepfather did not treat my mother right and he was very mean to me. I never remember him smiling or saying on kind word to anybody.

It so happens that my stepfather snored something terrible and his snoring used to keep me up at night. I finally stuffed cotton in my ears so I could sleep. This went on until last year when he left my mother for another woman.

I have gone to many slumber parties and they are lots of fun. But there is one girl in our crowd who snores very loudly and I refuse to go to a slumber party if I know she has been invited.

The thought just struck me, Ann — what if I marry a man who snores? My life would be wrecked. Is there a way I could find out before marriage? Please help me. — WORRIED LYNN.

Dear Lynn: Sometimes snoring caused by a nasal obstruction a doctor can help. If there is nothing organically wrong a gentle nudge or moving the snorer's head to the side may produce results. As a last resort, wax earplugs are better than cotton.

Sacred Ceremony

Dear Ann: I'm a minister with a church of 1,700 resident members. I often quote you in my sermons and refer to you as one of my mentors.

What can be done about time and energy wasted on rehearsals and weddings? Rehearsals are often repetitious and nerve-racking. The rigamarole of the wedding itself is becoming more and more commercial and less spiritual.

After the ceremony hundreds of guests stand outside waiting while the bridal party takes pictures. Then there are more pictures taken beside the cake—plus pictures with grandparents and distinguished guests.

Weddings used to be sacred, but now they seem to be staged events for photographers. What can you suggest? — WHIPPED ARKANSAS REVEREND.

Dear Reverend: If the people who put out all that loot want repetitious rehearsals plus a lot of la-de-da they will them.

Any clergyman can insist that no pictures be taken during the ceremony. Such a ruling would not save time or energy, but it would help to preserve the religious atmosphere.

A Family Album

Dear Ann: The question which has been causing a great deal of trouble in our family is this: Do pictures of old boy friends belong in the family album?

My wife and I have been married two years. We were given an album by mother when we married. Mother already had pasted in some very lovely family pictures of grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins. We keep this book on the piano in the living room and a great many people see it.

Last night I happened to pick up the album and was shocked to see that my wife had added a half dozen pictures of her ex-boy friends. Some of them were signed with pretty mushy sentiments.

I told her I didn't think this was proper. She said, "Why not? They were part of my life."

Is she right? Please settle this. — WANTING TO BE FAIR.

Dear Wanting: A family album means family. Pictures of your wife's old flames are clearly out of place. If she wishes to keep the pictures elsewhere you should not object but they don't belong in the family album.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Polluted Air Carries Disease

Every 24 hours you breathe in about 15,000 quarts of air, weighing about 10 times as much as the food you put into your stomach in a day. The quality of this air varies greatly with geographic location and weather conditions.

Pollution of this air is a complex problem that has been with us ever since people began burning fires. In the past 20 years many acute reactions have been caused by smog. The intensity of smog sickness depends on its concentration and duration. Perhaps the worst catastrophe due to smog occurred in London in 1952 when about 4,000 persons died of it in a five-week period.

SUCH DISASTERS make a profound impression on the inhabitants of a city and usually result in some type of corrective action. But it is foolhardy to wait for tragedy to strike before applying preventive measures.

According to Surgeon General Luther L. Terry of the U. S. Public Health Service, nearly every community of 2,500 or more inhabitants has an air pollution problem. He was referring not to smog but to invisible pollution. The effects of long-term exposure to the poisons in the air are not easy to evaluate, but there is real evidence that they constitute a real threat to health.

What are these poisons? All of them have not been identified yet, but some of the most prevalent do not come from industry. The action of sunlight on the exhaust gases from our automobiles produce ozone. This and the carbon dioxide, which is also found in exhaust gas, are dangerous poisons.

A FARMER who lives near a toll road or expressway may be exposed to more air pollution than a person dwelling in a suburb of a highly industrial city.

Even in cities where the industrial smog problem is greatest, the burning of leaves by home owners, outdoor trash incinerators, and improperly fired home furnaces account for much of the pollution. These include oxides of sulfur and of nitrogen. In all, about 3,000 different chemicals have been found in the air in various areas.

We don't know the specific effects of all of these substances on the human body. Many of them may be harmless in the quantities found but there is plenty of evidence that many of them are capable of causing serious illness.

Happy Actress

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I look and sound like a bold person, but I'm not," said Lucille Ball. "But I'm a happy person now."

There are exterior reasons why she should be happy. The famous redhead is a star in her own right, and as president of the $25-million-a-year Desilu Productions, Inc., she is sitting atop one of the biggest gold mines in show business.

"But what makes you happy in this business is just being a part of it," she said. "I never have fought over questions of billing or money. My biggest thrill is in being recognized as an accomplished performer."

"Success to me is just a steady, go-to-meeting, workaday continuance. I don't feel any different. There are more people to help, but that's no problem. It's a pleasure."

Miss Ball, looking far more fetching in her pajamas than the general run of corporate heads, abandoned her bowl of luncheon rice pudding and laid aside the script she had been reading. She walked to the window of her hotel living room and glanced out into the rain.

She recalled an incident of her youth, when she was an obscure model here, hoping that somehow, sometime she would be able to land a job as a show-girl.

"I had the usual starving, freezing time here," she said. "I don't look upon that time as the good old days. I was making $25 to $50 a week. I was shy as a kid. I didn't have any dates. I never saw the inside of a night club."

"I didn't mind the fact that success came so gradually," she said, turning away from the window.

"I thought I was doing fine. I was happy. I had a wonderful apprenticeship. I would have worked for nothing."

To her the chief sins in life are ingratitude and self-pity.

"The thing that held me back for years was being too willing to see the other guy's side before I did my own," she said. "That way you can wind up being a patsy."

"You have to follow your own convictions if you're going to be successful. You have to be strong enough to follow your own path."

The figure "25" in silver numbers topped the three-tiered cake which centered the tea table, overlaid in white linen and lighted by silver tapers in crystal.

Presiding were Mrs. Armstrong's sisters, Mrs. Russell McArtor of Salem, Mrs. Glenn Lewton of Minerva and Mrs. Seth Phelps of Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong were married Nov. 12, 1938, at Oakland, Md., by the Rev. Winfield S. Patterson.

Mrs. Armstrong is the former Miss Marjorie Smith, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William C. Smith of Lisbon. Mr. Armstrong's parents are L. S. Armstrong of Furnace Road and the late Mrs. Armstrong.

Beside their three daughters, they also have two grandchildren.

RALPH CUSICK, MASTER of West Point Grange, presided at the meeting Friday evening when members approved the purchase of a Christmas seal bond.

"Interesting Facts of Armistice Day" was the program theme presented by Mrs. Lloyd Smith, lecturer and program leader for the evening.

Group singing of "America" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," was accompanied by Mrs. John Steffen. A poem, "A Little Knowledge" was given by Mrs. Francis Brickner and "Father and Son Talk," by John Steffen.

An article about the Statue of Liberty was read by Ralph Bartley.

Word and quiz games were directed by Mrs. Smith.

The juvenile grange, presided over by Fred Brickner, master, made nylon net dish cloths.

On Nov. 22, there will be a coverdinner at 6:30 p. m. preceding the meeting at 8. A surprise program is being arranged.

The annual inspection of the Daughters of America will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 at the D of A Hall. All mem-

Mrs. Calvin Beck

Oriole-Beck Nuptials Are Held In St. Paul's

Rev. J. Richard Gaffney officiated at the double ring ceremony at 12:30 p.m. Saturday in St. Paul's Catholic Church, uniting in marriage Miss Nancy Ann Oriole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reynaldo Oriole of 991 E. 6th St., and Calvin Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Beck of Alliance.

Twin vases of white chrysanthemums and pompons with a background of Schefflera and grape ivy foliage graced the altar which was lighted by cathedral candelabra. Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Leon Kuniewicz.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a floor length white gown with scalloped scooped neckline and long sleeves on the molded bodice trimmed with diagonal panel of pearl-embroidered Alencon lace extending down the princess panel which graced the front of the full bouffant skirt boasting an obi back bow and full chapel train. A petal cap of lily petals held her elbow length veil of silk illusion and her flowers were starburst chrysanthemums and pink sweetheart roses in cascade arrangement.

Mrs. Waldo Beck of Alliance was matron of honor wearing an orchid velvet ballerina length dress with scooped neckline, elbow length sleeves, and softly pleated skirt. She complemented her dress with white fur hat and fur muff topped with pink carnations.

Miss Penny Jo Rist was bridesmaid and wore a plum colored velvet dress identical to that of Mrs. Beck.

Flower girl was Robin Smith who wore an orchid velvet dress with white fur hat and muff. The rings were carried on a square white satin pillow by Larry Lefever.

Arthur Oriole, brother of the bride, was best man, and Waldo, Wilbur and Dale Beck, brothers of the bridegroom, ushered.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Oriole wore a two-piece green wool dress, and Mrs. Beck chose a beige lace dress. Both complemented their costumes with corsages of pink sweetheart rosebuds.

Miss Carol Jean Beck, sister of the bridegroom, registered the 200 guests who attended the reception in the CIO Hall immediately following the ceremony.

Reception Is Held

A white lace cloth covered the bride's table lighted with white tapers in branching candelabra. Pink and white florets and adornamentum formed a base for the five-tier cake topped with miniature bride and bridegroom figurines. Mrs. Ronald Lefever made and decorated the cake and presented it to the newlyweds. Serving were Mrs. Wilbur Beck, Miss Gary Harper, Mrs. Richard Oriole and Mrs. Lefever.

The couple honeymooned at Niagara Falls and Canada. For her trip the bride wore a plum colored wool sheath dress and the corsage from her bouquet. Upon their return they will live at the C. and C. Trailer Court on the Damascus Road.

The bride is a graduate of the Hannah E. Mullins School of Practical Nursing and is employed in the laboratory at Salem City Hospital. Mr. Beck is employed as mechanic by the Ashley Chevrolet Co. at Alliance.

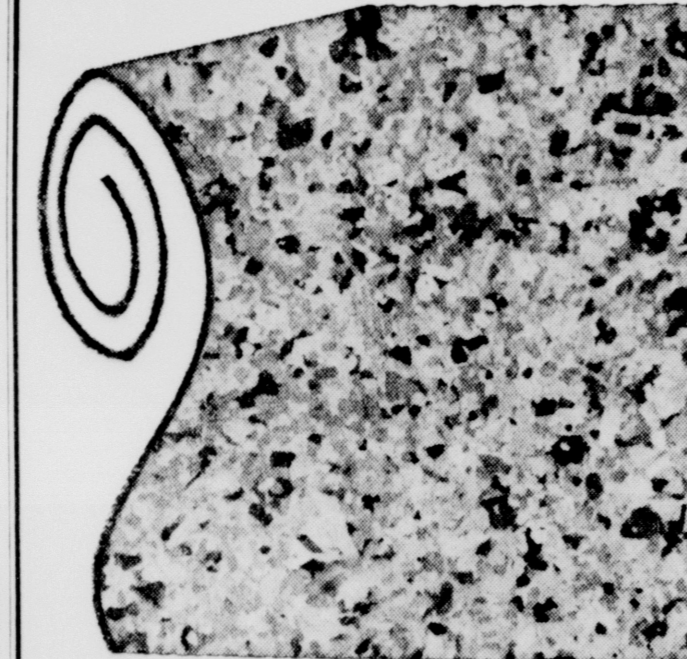

The parents of the bridegroom were hosts to the rehearsal dinner at their home Wednesday evening when gifts were presented their attendants by the bridal pair.

BRICKER TO DECIDE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Former Republican Sen. John Bricker says he has been too busy to think about his political aspirations but will decide soon whether to enter the 1964 race for his old Senate seat. The only nomination next year is Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

YWCA International Fair Set For Dec. 4-5

The annual International Fair and Festival sponsored by the YWCA will be held Dec. 4-5 from noon to 9 p.m. at the "Y" and will be truly international in flavor with an exhibit of dolls of various countries, a booth of Mexican items, another featuring merchandise from Sweden, and the Ukrainian dancers from Youngstown appearing one evening.

This yearly event is for the purpose of raising money to pay on the building debt of the "Y" and for the chapter's share toward the world fellowship effort around the world. It is hoped to realize $1,000 at the fair.

Needlework and crafts of many of the nationality groups in Salem will be exhibited and Ninth Grade Y-Teens, costumed as traditional carolers will lend a Christmas atmosphere to the festivities by singing traditional carols.

Mrs. Martin Lee Roth is chairman in charge of arrangements and requests that persons having treasures from other parts of the world bring them to the "Y" for exhibition. They are especially desirous of having a large display of dolls from foreign countries.

An Italian luncheon will be served the first day of the fair and a buffet supper the second day. Tickets for these must be purchased in advance.

The dining room will be in charge of the World Fellowship Committee with Mrs. Franklin Henderson as chairman.

Dye-Panzott Wedding Is Event of Saturday

Miss Sharlene Maria Dye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kay of Alliance, and William Robert Panzott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Panzott of 987 E. 5th St., were married at an 11 a.m. nuptial mass Saturday in St. Paul's Catholic Church.

Rev. Kevin Coleman officiated at the double ring ceremony while traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. L. P. Kuniewicz at the organ console. Escorted by John Casserly, a friend of the family, to an altar lighted with cathedral candles and decorated with vases of multi-colored chrysanthemums, the bride wore a street-length sheath gown of light green chiffon fashioned along princess lines with back streamers. Her small pill-box hat with flutter veil matched her dress and she carried a bouquet of white Fuji mums and pompons in cascade arrangement.

Wearing a pink sheath street-length dress, Mrs. Bernard Knapp, matron of honor, complemented her outfit with crown headpiece with veil and carried white Fuji mums and pompons. John Henry Panzott Jr. was best man and David Laurain and John Thomas Panzott ushered.

The bride's mother wore a green sheath dress for her daughter's wedding and the mother of the bridegroom an emerald green chiffon. Both had corsages of carnations. Approximately 200 guests attended the reception at the Leontina Ohio Sons of Italy Hall and were registered by Mrs. Rose Drakulich.

An arrangement of multi-colored mums graced the white linen covered bride's table with a three tier all-white cake as the focal point. Mrs. Carl Panzott, Mrs. John Panzott and Mrs. Dominic Panzott served. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Panzott were hosts to members of the bridal party and out of town guests at a buffet lunch immediately following the ceremony.

From the reception the bridal pair left for a honeymoon through the southern states and will reside at 226 E. 4th St. upon their return. For her trip the bride wore a three piece grey knit suit and the corsage from her bouquet.

A graduate of Alliance High School, the bride is employed by the Purux Corp. at Alliance. Mr. Panzot attended Salem High School and is employed by Nedelka's Cleaning Service.

Couple to Wed At New Garden Church

Miss Bonnie Aegerter and Raymond E. Ossman Jr. will be married Saturday in the sanctuary of the New Garden Methodist Church in the presence of the immediate families. There will be an open reception at 7 p.m. Saturday in the home of the bride's parents.

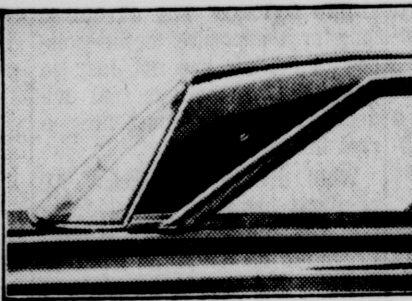

LOST ROCKET SOUGHT

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — It is possible that an air-to-ground rocket and its launcher, which fell Saturday from an Ohio Air National Guard jet, may never be found, officials say. But the search continues.

The F84F Thunderstreak fighter-bomber took off from Mansfield, flew south of Marion, north of Springfield and Dayton and south of Richmond, Ind., enroute to the Camp Atterbury, Ind., range where the loss attributed to a mechanical problem—was noted.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks: Remember the good old dressing that grandma used to make for her Waldorf Salad? Well, I found a good substitute that requires no cooking and very little effort. Every time I buy a pint of mayonnaise (not salad dressing) I divide it in half and make a wonderful facsimile of grandma's old-fashioned Waldorf dressing which I use on nearly everything nowadays.

Here it is:

1 cup of mayonnaise
one-half cup sugar
one-fourth cup vinegar

Mix well and set aside for a few days. The longer the better because as this dressing ages it gets thicker and thicker. After a few months (if you can keep it that long; it is even better).

This is a sweet and sour dressing and may be used on fruit salads, cabbage slaw, carrot and raisin salad or even poured over head lettuce. Yum, yum . . .

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: As a former instructor in judo and self-defense, here's a way that a housewife can defend herself with a simple weapon usually found in most homes. The house broom.

Just thrust the bristle part of the broom toward the face of any attacker and he will become discouraged very fast. As a weapon it is very effective and there is no good defense against it.

A FRIEND.

DEAR HELOISE: One day my memory went that-a-way . . . as 't has started to do frequently. I went to the doctor and he laughed at me. He told me to quit being so sweet all the time, so that night I "blew up" and threw a real temper tantrum.

After one or two episodes my memory stayed with me! Also, I now have two teen age children who think twice before ignoring my wishes.

MOTHER OF TWO.

DEAR HELOISE: When arranging flowers in a vase, (plastic or fresh) did you know that you could cut up an old sponge and cram the pieces around the neck of the vase to hold the flowers in place?

MELISSA HOMES.

No, I did not know this. You were mighty sweet to tell us.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever get home with a box of eggs and find two or three of them cracked and leaking?

Perhaps you do not want to use these eggs right away. My solution is to take a piece of tape and plaster the hole or crack in the egg shell to prevent further leaking.

LEAKAGE SOLVED.

DEAR HELOISE: I made some old Turkish towels into pillowcases and used them while traveling on our vacation. They do not get dirty and nasty looking like the conventional white ones. They are easily washed and need not be ironed.

GOP Unit Discusses Plan to Form Club

Plans for formation of a county young Republican club were discussed when the Republican Advisory Council met at noon Monday at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

The club will be organized next Monday at 8 p.m. in the county G.O.P. headquarters on E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, according to Atty. Charles Pike, county Republican chairman, who presided at yesterday's meeting.

Edward Elgin of New Philadelphia, administrative assistant in the state highway department, was a guest.

A "birthday meeting" will be held Nov. 26 at 8 p.m. by the Columbiana Republican Club in observance of its 25th anniversary. The event will be held in the Columbiana High School cafeteria.

The next advisory council session will be Nov. 25 at noon at the Wick Hotel.

Deficit Operation Of Pool Aired By Lisbon Council

LISBON — Village Council Monday night discussed the continued deficit operation of the Sadie Van Fossan Swimming Pool but took no action on the matter.

Over the past years Council has had to transfer money from the general fund to keep the pool in operation.

In 1963 the income from the pool was $2,611 and expenses totaled $4,340. A breakdown of the two previous years follows: 1962 — income $2,720, expenses $3,369; 1961 — income $3,020, expenses $4,176.

Council also discussed installation of several lights at the pool but deferred action.

The lawmakers voted to hire the S. D. Nold Co. to adjust the snow bucket to fit the new tractor at a cost of $90, and transferred $100 from the general fund to the civil defense fund.

Council also discussed the deteriorating condition of several village streets.

Council's next meeting will be Nov. 25 at 7:30 p.m. at village hall.

Lisbon Dogwood Tree Planting Is Delayed

LISBON — Plans to begin planting dogwood trees on the village square have been delayed at least one week.

A committee of the Lisbon Civic Association, which is considering the project, said no definite plans have been arranged. The Committee gave its report at a meeting last night.

The group will meet again next week to further study the plan. Dr. Tom Liggitt is head of the committee. Serving with him are Atty. Jack Beck, Paul Gettig, Charles Webber and John Noble.

Lisbon Kiwanians Set Pancake Fry

LISBON — There will be no meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday, but all members will be asked to work Wednesday when the club holds its annual pancake and sausage fry from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Methodist Church.

Tickets can be purchased from any club member or at the door.

OFFICERS TO MEET

The bi-monthly officers conference of the county granges will be held this evening at 8:30 at Elkton Grange hall. Charles L. Morlan, deputy master, will preside.

Hayes Plans New Offense

Wildcats Have 16 Ohioans On Roster

By FRITZ HOWELL Associated Press Sports Writer COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State has reached the "win or get out" stage in the race for the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl bid—and Coach Woody Hayes hopes to get more punch in the Buckeye attack for the two-game stretch drive.

Northwestern's Wildcats, coming up Saturday, pose the first of the problems despite their 2-4 conference record—and then the Ohioans close the campaign the following Saturday at Michigan where another top test is in prospect.

Hayes' big worry is the fact that his usually devastating ground assault hasn't been operating up to par. In the last 17 quarters the Bucks have manufactured only three touchdowns.

Just what his plans are for rejuvenating the offense, which piled up 58 of its 88 points in the first three games and then fell off to 30 in the last four, he hasn't divulged.

He admitted at Monday's press conference that he should have taken to the airways a bit sooner in Saturday's 10-7 loss to Penn State and that the tardy aerial maneuvers were "too meager and too late."

Northwestern, its roster dotted with 16 Ohioans of whom nine are on the three-deep lineup, has faltered after being picked to fight it out for the title in pre-season prognostications. But scout Esco Sarkkinen pointed out that the Wildcats have scored eight touchdowns in their last three games, seven on long-gainers.

This is the season's finale for Ara Parseghian's club, and the Evanston team will be sky high, Sarkkinen predicted, in an attempt to salvage something from the disappointing campaign.

Tom Myers, standout quarterback from Troy, Ohio, is the Wildcats' No. 1 threat. He has completed 86 of 165 tosses for 1,335 yards and 6 touchdowns.

Also on the traveling squad are Buckeye products: ends Gary Crum of Cardington and Pat Riley of Cincinnati; tackles Tom Ziemke of Sandusky and Jerry Oberdorf of Fairfield; guards Jim Powell of North Canton and Jack Cvercko of Campbell, and halfbacks Mike Buckner of Akron and Ron Rector of Barberton.

Northwestern has won two of the last three against Ohio, 21-0 in 1958 and 18-14 last year. Ohio won 10-0 in 1961. The Buckeyes lead the 38-game series with 26 victories against 11 losses and a tie.

Jucker Not Pleased With Cincy Drills CINCINNATI (AP)—Coach Ed Jucker is not satisfied with the way the University of Cincinnati basketball Bearcats are doing in practice—but he admits there's hope for the season that starts Nov. 30.

"Maybe I'm spoiled," said Jucker, who led the Bearcats to two consecutive NCAA championships and just missed making it three straight last spring.

"I know that this will be a complete new team after losing four fine seniors and great defensive players. We're behind in many phases — especially defense. We're far beyond where we were at this time last year, but this was not entirely unexpected."

"Ron Bonham is knocking the eyes out of the basket," Jucker said, turning to cheerier topics. "George Wilson is still trying to play two positions (center and forward) and this is a hardship. Gene Smith is sharp, in the best shape of his career, and at this stage further ahead than anyone on the club."

Both Bonham, of Muncie, Ind., and Wilson, of Chicago, were regular starters last year and will play forward this winter if Ron Krick can make the grade as center. If Krick, a 6-foot-8 sophomore, does not come through, Jucker will play Wilson in the pivot slot and Bonham and Smith as forwards.

The backcourt will be all new, consisting of juniors Fritz Meyer of Cincinnati and Ken Cunningham of East Liverpool.

Wiggin Tells Touchdown Club Browns Will Give Fans 5 Games To Remember

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns, now in a tie with the New York Giants for the National Football League Eastern Division lead, aren't quitting on themselves. The word comes from Paul Wiggin, the ace defensive end.

"We'll give you five games to remember," Wiggin told the Cleveland Touchdown Club Monday. "We've got the personnel to do the job. I'm sure we have the kind of people who will come back when the chips are down."

Wiggin played his usual great game on defense as the Browns bowed 9-7 in Pittsburgh Sunday for their second loss in three weeks. It gives the Browns a 7-2 record as they prepare to play St. Louis at home this week. The Cardinals are 6-3.

"People are asking what happened to our offense, but we lost as a team," Wiggin said. "It was the job of the defense to bail out the offense in Pittsburgh. They bailed us out more than once this year."

As for the slump of the passing attack, Wiggin said: "I still believe in this club. We're going to come out of this."

Coach Blanton Collier said he hasn't made up his mind whether to bench quarterback Frank Ryan, who has been having troubles, in favor of Jim Ninkowski, the 1962 starter until he broke a collar bone.

"It's not fair to blame one man," Collier said when asked if Ryan was at fault for the

Alworth Catches 13 Passes To Tie AFL Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Lance Alworth, San Diego's baby-faced flanker back, tied an American Football League record Sunday by catching 13 passes against Boston, a performance that made him the leading ground gainer among the league's pass catchers.

Although Alworth's total of 46 catches is good for only sixth place in the standings and trails leading Art Powell of Oakland by six, he has gained 968 yards and scored eight touchdowns. Alworth's catches have been worth a fantastic average of 21 yards.

Clem Daniels recaptured the rushing lead when he picked up 122 yards in 31 carries for Oakland in the Raiders' 22-7 Friday night victory over Kansas City.

Tobin Rote of San Diego retained first place among the passers with Jack Kemp of Buffalo close behind. Rote has averaged 9.5 yards per attempt and has completed 114 of 182 for 14 touchdowns.

Gino Cappelletti, Boston's place kicker, widened his impressive lead in the scoring department with a total of 87 points to 53 for George Blanda of Houston.

Navy Chosen 2nd; Pitt Is Selected 6th

Unbeaten Texas Retains First Place In AP Survey

By HUGH FULLERTON JR. Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — As the only major college team still unbeaten and untied, despite the slender margins of victory, Texas retained its spot as the nation's No. 1 football team this week.

The Longhorns were first on 48 of 53 ballots and took the top spot for the fifth straight week by a comfortable margin.

The panel of sports writers and broadcasters voting in the weekly Associated Press poll also meted out recognition as due to other winners and losers. Navy, Michigan State, Oklahoma and Pitt rose in the rankings while Illinois, Auburn and Ohio State went down.

Texas, winning its eighth straight game, had to go all out to win a squeaker from Baylor 7-0. That was the fourth in a row won by no more than a touchdown. Instead of discounting the Longhorns because of those margins, the experts gave them a whopping total of 526 points on the scoring basis of 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc. That came on 48 firsts, four seconds and one vote for fifth.

Navy moved up from fourth to second with 446 points, replacing Illinois, which skidded far down the list after a 14-8 loss to Michigan. The voters obviously were impressed by the ease with which the Midshipmen massacred Maryland 42-7. Mississippi, an easy 41-0 winner over Tampa, a minor opponent, remained in third. Michigan State climbed from ninth to fourth after trimming Purdue 23-0 and taking the Big Ten lead.

Behind them in the Top Ten came Oklahoma, Pitt, Alabama, Illinois, Auburn and Nebraska.

Oklahoma, a 24-14 winner over Iowa State, just nosed out Pitt for fifth in the point scoring, 284-281. Pitt's decisive 27-7 victory over Notre Dame lifted the Panthers from eighth place. points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Robertson Leads 2 Divisions In NBA Statistics, Lucas 1

NEW YORK (AP)—Big O — Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals—held the National Basketball Association lead in both scoring and assists in the latest figures released today, but the NBA news continued to be the new accent on defense.

Robertson hit 29 points in each of three games during the week to run his total to 333 points in 13 games. He added 22 assists to make it 122 in that department. Over-all, the nine clubs were averaging 108.9 points per game, compared to 116.0 at the same point last year. Shooting percentage were off from .432 to .426, as well.

The San Francisco Warriors, with a new image under Coach Alex Hannum, are holding their opponents to 97.3 points a game, the next stingiest team, the Boston Celtics.

Wilt Chamberlain of the Warriors continued to lead the league in scoring percentage, 30.6 per game, but well off his normal pace as he concentrates on defense.

Charlie Vaughn of the St. Louis Hawks retained the field goal percentage lead with a .524 average, and Cliff Hagan of the Hawks moved into the lead in free throw percentage with a .914 average.

Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati held his rebound lead with 224. Bill Russell of the Celtics had the top average, 24.4 a game.

High School Football Poll Slated Wednesday

The weekly AP high school football poll, originally scheduled for Tuesday AMS release, will be delayed to Wednesday AMS and PMS. The delay is caused by the non-distribution of mail Monday due to Veteran's Day.

The state championship poll will be taken after the Nov. 15-16 contests.

Royals Attendance Is Up 25,000 Fans

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals hope they will keep adding to their lead in attendance compared with last year when the Los Angeles Lakers come to town for a National Basketball Association game.

The Royals' attendance for six home games this year is 49,746. A total of 4,519 fans watched their first six home games last year.

Much of the credit for the increase is given to Jerry Lucas, who has been suffering from a cold but says he will play against the Lakers Wednesday night.

Lucas, the three-time All-America from Ohio State, has averaged 16.5 points per game in the NBA. In 13 games he has scored 214 points and grabbed 224 rebounds.

Huskie's Douglas Named College Back Of The Week

By WILL GRIMSLY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It's one thing to drive a football team across the field into scoring territory and another to push the ball across the touchdown.

Sometimes it is possible to become so enmeshed in the value of statistics that more attention is given to the touchdown makers than the men who make the touchdowns possible.

Such is not the case today in The Associated Press' Back of the Week—Bill Douglas, the 5-foot-11, 175-pound quarterback at the University of Washington.

Douglas made only one touchdown — a mere pittance when measured by the production of some of the country's other backs — but he had a hand and a foot in a half-dozen in the Huskies' 39-26 victory over California.

The 20-year-old junior signal-caller was the whip in scoring drives that covered 85, 77, 79, 90 and 48 yards and he also helped put the ball in position for a 32-yard field goal.

He completed 12 of 19 passes for 176 yards and gained 67 additional yards on option plays.

Roger Staubach of Navy and Billy Lohridge of Georgia Tech, two of the season's most consistent quarterbacks also had good days, but failed to measure up to Douglas in overall performance.

Staubach scored two touchdowns and passed for a third in running his season's individual yardage to 1,544, an all-time Naval Academy high, in the 42-7 victory over Maryland. Lohridge completed 20 of 34 passes in the 15-7 triumph over Florida State for 246 yards and had an overall total of 274 yards for the day.

It's all over now but the shouting.

The pads have been turned in, the coaches are putting away their crying towels for another year and players and coaches alike are gloating about what did happen, or turning every friendly ear with tales of what could have been if...

Another area high school grid season, with all its bumps and bruises and wins and losses, has come to an end.

SOME OF THE PLAYERS who will graduate in the spring — most of them, probably — will never again play organized football. Others will go on to play in college or in the service and, possibly, some may eventually make the pro ranks.

But for the spectators there is always "next year."

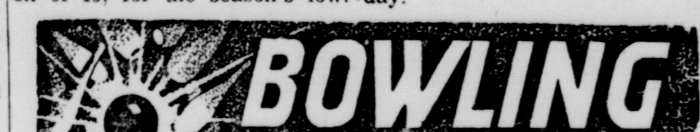

"Next year," they exclaim, "old Podunk High will go undefeated." And if old "Podunk" doesn't, they can say the same thing about the following season.

PROGNOSTICATORS never expect a perfect season! As a matter of fact, if we did have an unblemished record, officials of some sort or another would surely start an investigation to find out WHY we had no wrong picks.

But an investigation won't be necessary this year. In our inaugural try at game predicting, we managed to pick three right for every one we missed, which, considering all, makes us feel pretty good.

To be more exact, we were correct on 89 of 119 picks for a percentage of .747.

The first week of the season was our best when we "hit" on 12 of 13, but any "hot air" that may have inflated our heads quickly evaporated when the following week we missed seven of 13, for the season's low.

Stark's Colonial Attic fired the high series 759-873-802—2,434 in the Saxon Lane's Mixed Up League. Members of the team were Art Tontch, 218-212-170—600; Jerry Menning, 158-186-169—517; Bill Edling, 123-188-185—501; Carol Menning, 135-153-160—448; and Hilda Edling, 120-124-118—382.

John Pridon posted the high individual series 604 and high game 244 in the men's bracket. Dot Weber posted the top series 559, and Barb Helman the high game 212 in the women's division.

Art Edling made the 3-7 split; Bob Enders, 6-7-10; Ed McQuiston, the 2-4-10 and 3-6-7-10; and Barb Helman, 5-10.

Other high series bowled by the men included Curt Hippiely, 545; and rank Diehl, who had a 228 game, 541. Hippiely had a 211 game.

Barb Helman carded a 532 series. She was followed by Mary Kandert, 507; Sally Ulrich, 479; and Jennie Linder, 452.

BEVERLY FARMS still leads the Area Merchants League with a 29-11 record. Cornie's TV is in second place with 26-14; and Peoples Lumber Company follows with 25-15.

Cornie's TV collected the high team series 2,658. First National Bank came in with 2,619 and S and H Vending had 2,528. Dickey's Ideal Dairy posted the high game 948.

Glenn Robbins chalked up the high individual series 594 and the second high game 233. Don Riley had the high game 234. Bill Dickey knocked down 231 pins.

Jim Johnson Sr. fired a 573 series. He was followed by Bill Odorizzi, 557; and Jim Adams, 557.

BARNETT'S MOTEL and Fitzpatrick Sohio are tied for first place in the Friendship League standings with 32-8 records. Glenn Oesch Sohio carded a 28-12 mark.

Barnett's knocked off Merchants Vending 764-740-355—2,359 to 701-697-706—2,104, for a four-point victory. Fitzpatrick swept four from Church Budget 631 718-744—2,143 to 659-556-631—1,846.

Barbara Helman put together the top individual series 181-192-189—562. Emily Arnold came in with 175-170-199—544. Other high series included Eria Burrier, 497; Helen Stevenson, 497; Lois Hileman, 497; Katie Hahn, 487; Dorothy Hively, 479; and Lucille Bennett, 477.

Kate Pauline carded a 188 game; Virginia Bardo, 174; Jo Fowler, 170; and Kate Spack, 159.

CITY CAB HAS a four-point lead in the standings of the Saxon Classic A League. Bud Shaffer Ford is Second, and Koehler's, Purity Dairy and Glogan Hardware are tied for third place.

Purity Dairy rolled a season team series high 2,954 and for the loop season single game high 1,060. John DeFavero of Purity collected the high individual series high for the campaign in the league 671.

TURKEY TALK

Turkey to all of us is as old and traditional as America's first Thanksgiving, when our Pilgrim Fathers chose to honor and praise the Almighty through keeping a day of feasting and Thanksgiving for the harvest He had given them.

Since they offered the best they had likewise behooves us to do the same for the Thanksgiving meal.

Because turkey is the most important item of the meal, we here at Witmer's have carefully selected the finest and broadest strains known to us, and have carefully fed and raised them so as to bring out the finest in taste and flavor.

So why not have a fine, fresh dressed turkey direct from Witmer's Farm, where you know their origin and are guaranteed to be good.

THERON

at the Country Store

I would like to thank everyone who helped to make our birthday celebration so enjoyable. My youngest daughter Barbara, whose birthday is the same day as mine got a real big kick out of the affair. She helped to hand out pens to the visitors. We had a thousand and they ran out in the afternoon already. We gave away almost 2,000 pieces of birthday cake. It was baked by the Columbian Bakery and it was very good.

We had a lot of visitors with Nov. 10th birthdays just how many I am not sure. Someone made the statement that only Theron could get so many people at a birthday party. I kinda got a kick out of that.

Deaths and Funerals

Florence Schneider

CANTON — Mrs. Florence May Schneider, 58, formerly of 134 McKinley Ave. SW, died of complications Sunday evening, following an illness of two years.

Born July 16, 1905, in Stark County, she lived most of her life in Canton except for a few years spent near Columbiana. She was a member of Faith Memorial Baptist Church.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Frank Albers of Canton; one sister, Mrs. Clara Dixon in Oklahoma, a half-sister, Mrs. Nora Himebaugh of Hartsville; one half-brother, Edward Dixon of Salem, and one granddaughter.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Faith Memorial Baptist Church, with Rev. E. M. Mortenson officiating. Burial will be in Sunset Hills Burial Park. Friends may call this evening at the Reed Funeral Home.

Mrs. L. B. Hutchinson

YOUNGSTOWN — Mrs. Ruth Hutchinson, 71, of 843 E. Pasadena Ave. died of complications at 9:55 a.m. Monday in South Side Hospital following a lingering illness.

Born Oct. 19, 1892, in Vienna, Mo., she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Burns.

She married Leslie B. Hutchinson, who survives. She attended the Methodist Church.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Robert Harchner of North Lima and Darhl Ritchey of Columbiana; seven grandchildren; one brother, Eugene Burns of Youngstown; and a sister, Mrs. Pearl Hoff of East Fairfield.

Services will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Warrick Funeral Home in Columbiana with Rev. Richard J. Steele, Jr. of the Homestead Church in Youngstown officiating. Burial will be in Columbiana Cemetery. Friends may call Wednesday evening at the funeral home.

Mrs. Joseph Rizzuto

SEBRING — Mrs. Joanna Jennie Rizzuto, 74, of 325 W. Ohio Ave. died of complications at 7:45 p.m. Monday in Alliance City Hospital.

Born in Hungary, Dec. 29, 1888, the daughter of James and Julia Ellis Tupchia, she was a member of St. Anne's Catholic Church. Her husband, Joseph, preceded her in death.

Mrs. Rizzuto is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Clair Palermo of Sebring; a son, Louis Rizzuto of California, and two sisters.

Services will be at 9 a.m. Friday in the church. Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery. Friends may call from 7 to 9 Thursday at the Vogt Funeral Home.

Mrs. Elmer Johnson

ALLIANCE — Mrs. Dottie Johnson, 73, of S. Linden Ave., a former Sebring resident, died of a heart attack at 11:50 a.m. Monday at Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Born in East Liverpool, Oct. 5, 1890, she was the daughter of W. H. and Ada Woodburn Davidson and a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church.

She is survived by a son, William G. Moore of Canfield, and a sister, Mrs. Minnie Stockton of Alliance. Her husband, Elmer, preceded her in death.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Joseph Church and burial will be in Riverview Cemetery, East Liverpool.

Friends may call Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Vogt Funeral home at Sebring.

MOTHER DIES IN EAST

Mrs. Louise Wojtaszek of Elizabeth, N. J., mother of Mrs. Leonard Jones of Franklin Ave., died of cancer this morning in Elizabeth following a long illness. Services will be held Thursday morning at Elizabeth where she will be interred.

With Patients

Bonnie Lynn Baker, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Baker of 2289 Oak St., is in good condition following surgery Monday at Akron Children's Hospital.

Sam Trimm, 41, of RD 1, Salem, is in fairly good condition in Salem Central Clinic where he was admitted at 7:40 p.m. Monday for treatment of an amputation of the fourth finger of the right hand and abrasions and contusions of the same hand suffered in a press while working for the Salem Stamping Co.

Richard Sweitzer of 217 Fair Ave., who was injured when his car hit a culvert on Route 62 Monday morning, is in fair condition in Salem Central Clinic.

Graduates from the U.S. Military Academy receive the degree of Bachelor of Science.

Apportionment Appeals on Tap

Supreme Court To Hear Eight Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court plunges deeply today into the thicket of state legislative and congressional apportionments.

The tribunal has scheduled arguments in eight appeals that will be debated for more than 17 hours through this week's court sessions and winding up early next week.

The central theme in the cases is the allegation that metropolitan area voters are discriminated against by divisions favoring rural areas. Out of the group of cases is expected to come an understanding of what is necessary under the Constitution to provide fair representation to all citizens.

Appeals to be heard this week, in this order, are from New York, Alabama (three cases), Maryland and Virginia. The involve legislative districting. Next week cases involving congressional apportionment in Georgia and New York will be heard. Still another legislative districting case, from Delaware will be argued Dec. 9.

Other requests for hearings are pending in cases from Michigan, Florida, Washington, Ohio, Oklahoma, Colorado and New York City's borough of Queens. Action on these requests may be deferred pending final decisions in the cases now up for argument.

The Supreme Court March 26, 1962, in a Tennessee reapportionment case ruled for the first time that state legislative districting was subject to constitutional challenge in federal courts. The ruling gave no hint as to what degree of equality the Constitution requires.

With the door thus opened to apportionment suits, a flood of litigation developed in lower courts. Imbalances in districting have been attacked in suits in more than 30 states. Lower courts have given conflicting decisions that seem to require eventual resolution by the Supreme Court.

throughout his clothing, including socks and shoes. Pool slips, tickets and other gambling paraphernalia were confiscated.

Agents indicated that more arrests may be forthcoming.

The Liberty Township home of Peter Fatchet was raided simultaneously with the Niles spot. The Fatchet raid, according to police, revealed evidence of numbers activity that has been sent to the FBI laboratory in Washington for examination.

The prosecutor said the raids may be unique in law enforcement history. They were based on affidavits furnished by FBI agents containing gambling information about the two spots gathered during investigation into the 1962 Youngstown bombing death of Charles (Cadillac Charlie) Cavallero and his son, Tommy.

The raids are said to also be connected directly with today's opening session of the Mahoning County grand jury in Youngstown. More than 70 racketeers, hoodlums and others have been subpoenaed by Mahoning Prosecutor Clyde Osborne.

Mishaps

Canfield. While passing another vehicle, Troy's car struck Miller's on the side. The local car continued on and hit a tree head-on.

Troy was cited for passing without the assured clear distance and will appear in Judge John Reddy's court in Sebring.

Two women were slightly hurt Monday morning about 8 when their car went into a skid on the bridge on Route 7 just south of the Route 14 intersection.

Treated at Salem City Hospital, Mrs. Gloria C. Simmons, 37, of Amherst, who suffered lip lacerations, and Mrs. Mary Ann Piro, 27, of Lorain, possible neck whiplash.

The Lisbon Patrol said Mrs. Simmons was going south when the car went into a skid on thin ice. The auto traveled down the highway a short distance and crashed through guard rails, leaped an embankment and hit a farm fence.

Mrs. Simmons was cited for speed excessive for conditions. Salem, Homeworth Cars Crash

A Salem area motorist was cited for failure to stop within the assured clear distance after his car struck another from Homeworth Monday morning at 7:15 in Ellsworth.

The Patrol arrested Lawrence Hagen, 31, of RD 1, Georgetown Rd. after he struck the rear of a car operated by Earl Fleming, 58, of RD 1, Homeworth, as Fleming was halted for the traffic light at the intersection of Routes 224 and 45. Neither was hurt.

VFW Veterans Day Program Enjoyed

Mrs. Alice Oana, immediate past national president of the Amvets Auxiliary, and Rex Reich, past post commander, were guest speakers at the Veterans Day dinner Saturday evening at the Veterans of Foreign Wars post home.

Mrs. Oana told of the many experiences occurring during her travels as national Auxiliary president, including meetings at which President Kennedy was the main speaker. She also spoke of the proposed Salem War Memorial honoring the 71 men who gave their lives in service of their country during World War II and the Korean conflict. She said it is hoped that the memorial might be dedicated next Memorial Day.

Mr. Reich told how apathy on the part of the government in existence at the time was responsible for the rise of Hitler to power, and he urged insistence of a strong and forceful foreign policy in an effort to combat the dangers to our American freedom by present Communist leaders.

Both speakers were introduced by Francis Himmelsbach, VFW post commander.

at Euclid Avenue and East 24th Street.

State officials said Fenn would get $12 million from the $250 million bond issue approved by voters last week. This would require action by the General Assembly, which meets Dec. 2.

Additional funds, it was hoped, would come from other sources. A state spokesman said the plan could be in full effect in two years.

New Haven, Conn. He is a brother of Prof. Elso Sternberg Barghoorn, a Harvard botanist.

He is a professor in the Political Science Department at Yale.

He was on the staff of the American Embassy in Moscow from 1942 to 1947, with the State Department in Germany from 1949 to 1951, and has been a lecturer at several universities.

The arrest of Barghoorn was the first Soviet spy charge involving an American since the signing last July of the limited treaty on banning nuclear tests.

The signing was followed by an easing of international tensions—and the release of two Americans imprisoned in the Soviet Union.

Parents Told How Pupils Learn Studies

Parents of some 1,500 elementary pupils in the Salem school system yesterday completed conferences with teachers of their youngsters and went home with a better idea of why Johnny can or can't read, draw, figure, etc.

The two days of conference were held for the first time at McKinley, Reilly and 4th Street Schools. This is the second year for the ungraded plan and conferences at Buckeye and Prospect Schools.

All pupils in grades one through four now come under the ungraded system. "Grades" is actually a misnomer; level is the correct term for the different phases through which children pass in the ungraded school.

This newer school system which permits a child to progress at his own pace is expected to be extended to include 5th grade in the 1964-65 year. It may encompass other higher grades as years go by.

Elementary school principals reported today the conferences moved along smoothly and with a minimum of confusion on the part of parents. At Buckeye and Prospect Schools, in particular, the sessions moved along with the greatest of ease with parents already well oriented from last year on what to expect.

Progress reports were given to parents for the first nine-week period rather than to the children. In the next nine-week period, reports will be sent home with children and in the third nine-week period, conferences are again expected to be held with parents receiving reports there.

The conferences last about 20 minutes. Superintendent Paul E. Smith had the sessions arranged so that parents with more than one child under the ungraded plan could see all teachers in one trip.

Grange News

Mt. Nebo To Meet

Mt. Nebo Grange will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the grange hall, with Mrs. Harold Sebrill, lecturer, in charge of the program. Carl Bailey, master, will preside.

Beloit

BELOIT — Movies and slides of activities of the celebration of the Beloit Centennial will be shown by the committee Thursday at 7 p.m. at the Beloit Elementary School.

The steering committee announces that the account books will be closed in December and a financial statement will be made to the public at that time.

Perry Twp. Trustees Rename Zoning Clerk

Harold England of the Goshen Road, a retired letter carrier who has been Perry Township zoning officer for the past three years, was reappointed for another two-year term when the township trustees met Monday night.

His pay is based on fees charged when building permits are issued for new construction in the township area surrounding Salem.

Other items discussed at the trustees' meeting were merely routine. Clerk Richard Hutcheson reported.

Smith Twp. Club To Meet Wednesday

Smith Township Home Extension Club will meet from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Vernon of Courtney Rd.

"Gracious Hostessing" will be the topic.

for pupils in district. Pupils will walk to school if they live within a mile or two of the school they attend.

7. Elimination of all 2:30 p.m. bus runs. (Currently, buses take the small children home first, then return to take older children.)

8. Reduction of number of bus stops.

9. Elimination of bus travel on back roads as much as possible, requiring children to walk out to hard-surface roads.

10. Requiring parents to buy their children's supplementary materials such as workbooks. The Board of Education currently bears this expense.

The administration estimated that extremely stringent measures may reduce the budget by up to $50,000.

The areas of transportation, athletics, maintenance, supplies and school use were chosen since the district's teacher salary is already rock-bottom for Columbiana County. Of an estimated $690,000 income, some $450,000 alone is expected to be paid out in administrative and teachers' salaries.

The district could not afford to lose more teachers since it is only 1.7 teachers above that which the State Foundation will reimburse schools.

New Meetings Planned

A financial meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 with board members and citizens present and another session is set for Thursday night at 7:30 to air further details of money problems and their possible solutions.

These two meetings are expected to set the stage for possible action by the board Monday night at 7:30 on any or all of the 10 suggestions presented to members last night.

In other action the board hired Nancy Curran of Cincinnati to teach girls' physical education. She will replace Mrs. Shepherd, who was moved to Wayne Hunter's 5th grade class at the Public School. Hunter's resignation was accepted last night.

The resignation of Mrs. Donna Barnhart, Calcutta School cook, was also accepted. June Rudibaugh was transferred to Calcutta and Margaret Mays will take Mrs. Rudibaugh's place.

James Bowers' resignation as a bus driver in the Rogers area was agreed to, but the board did not hire a replacement. A substitute driver is filling in.

To Provide Shelters

The board consented to the free installation of several school children shelters along the district's routes. The offer was made by a representative of a firm which manufactures the protecting structures. The company will lease the land and install the shelters without charge.

A bond and coupon payment due Dec. 1 and totaling $69,976.88 was approved by the board. The district has five bond issues being paid on.

Certification of four substitute bus drivers was approved. They are Alvin Gilbert, Charles Gorry, Wendell Russell and Jack Havis.

11 Men Inducted Into Service Today

Eleven men left by bus today from the Columbiana County Draft Board for induction into the armed services at Cleveland.

Thirteen more will leave on the 18th to complete the board's November quota and 32 will go for pre-induction physicals Nov. 25, according to Mrs. Byron Griffith, clerk of Board 16.

Inducted from area communities were:

Salem — Frederick C. Brautigam, 1076 N. Union Ave.

Lasbon — John L. Smith, 238 W. Chestnut St.

East Palestine — Charles H. Elwonger, RD 1.

Rogers — Craig L. Truzzie, RD 1.

the floor in the back seat and the girl was on the back seat.

There appeared to have been a violent struggle about 400 feet from the car. Blood stains were on the ground at that spot and a trail that led from there to the car indicated a body had been dragged, deputies added.

The car had been set afire with gasoline siphoned from the auto, investigators said.

They said the last persons to see the couple alive were the girl's 14-year-old sister and mother when the boy picked Mary up for a date. The couple had been dating since July.
